Ministry Leadership Weekend

The work of ministry is not always glamorous and exciting. Most of the time it involves daily faithfulness to God in the midst of regular tasks. This work God has called us to do is not always easy, and was not meant to be done alone. For that reason, those called to the work of vocational ministry need time to get away together, rest, encourage and sharpen one another, and listen to the voice of God. If you are serving in vocational ministry, we hope you'll join us for Ministry Leadership Weekend at Pine Haven, as we encourage one another to continue in
